

APT Membership TERMS AND CONDITIONS—

APT does not tolerate discrimination based on race, color, belief, or non-belief, national origin, sexual persuasion, or disability. Any member who speaks or acts in a manner contrary to this policy may have his membership revoked. Personal information for which a member has granted access is considered public information and may be shared with external parties. When a member registers with APT, the following items are made public: name, preferred email, partner name, and picture (if provided). Each member has the capability of restricting (or blocking from public view) his personal information, with the exception of his name. Members can also choose additional items to be made public, e.g., address. Although members can share other members' public information, APT prohibits any sale of such information, and discourages the distribution of such information for multiple members.
